

PILCHUCK VETERINARY HOSPITAL

---

Background

Pilchuck Veterinary Hospital has 18 doctors providing wellness and emergency medical care for horses, dogs, cats, dairy and beef cattle, llamas, alpacas, goats, and sheep. Serving Snohomish and the Puget Sound region as a full-service mixed-animal practice since its founding in 1963, it is now one of the largest multi-species veterinary practices in the United States. It provides 24-hour emergency and critical care veterinary medicine for small and large animals.

Pilchuck Veterinary Hospital is dedicated to providing compassionate care delivered by highly educated doctors and staff. In addition to shared expertise and collaboration among professional staff, the hospital's large size provides access to specialized equipment, innovative technologies, and highly trained professionals in all disciplines. Pilchuck added an equine hospital (medical and surgical referral services) in 1989, and now has the largest team of board-certified equine surgeons in Western Washington. The hospital provides 24-hour emergency and critical care veterinary medicine for small and large animals. Working out of Puget Sound Farms, also in Snohomish, the equine reproduction center provides a complete range of breeding services.
